

Side Saddle Association Member Georgina Hulme attended the National Palomino Society Show held at the Three Counties Show ground on 11th and 12th July 2015.

Georgina's mount, Fields of Barley is owned by Callum Hanson who is at university studying to be a translator and whilst he is away his mum and Georgina ride and compete Barley.

Georgina and Barley competed at the Royal London Horse Show in 2014 and won the Side Saddle Concours d'Élégance class which was judged by Vanessa Hood.

This year they decided to go and compete Barley in his own Palomino Society and won 3 classes: over 14.2hh, Veteran and Family Horse. They then went into the Championship and took Reserve Supreme Champion. Georgina has been amazed by how much positive feedback she received, saying it was amazing.

Barley is 17 and until 4 years ago he was deemed a bad horse but with time, patience, love and devotion they now have their golden boy who loves to show.

Georgina has been riding side saddle for many years and loves to promote the wonderful art wherever she can. Georgina says she is very lucky to have 2 horses to ride side saddle, her main horse, Lyndehurst who has won so much astride and side saddle over the last 10 years and now Barley.
